

Privacy Policy

Privacy and security Policy

YogaBalance takes the security and privacy of our customers very seriously. We endeavour to conform with the UK and European Data Protection laws.

Using personal information

We will use your personal information for us to provide our services to you. This will not be shared with unrelated third parties. We do not collect or retain any information other than is required for the provision of our products or services.

Third Parties

Where we engage third party contractors (e.g. teachers, therapists etc) to perform services for us, those third party contractors may be required to handle your personal information. Under these circumstances those third party contractors must safeguard this information and must only use it for the purposes for which it was supplied although we are not responsible for ensuring this. Other than the above, we will not disclose your personal information without your consent unless disclosure is either necessary to prevent a threat to life or health, authorised or required by law reasonably necessary to enforce the law or necessary to investigate a suspected unlawful activity. Under no circumstances do we sell participant or personal information to others.

Other notes

YogaBalance makes use of third party software to manage bookings such as MindBody Online.

From time to time it may be necessary for us to review and revise this policy. We reserve the right to change our policy at any time and should this occur the amendment would be posted on our website.