

Auburn Hills is a dynamic community that continues to be committed to innovation and growth. Our diversified tax base places us in an enviable position in this region, and the City continues to thrive with its many industrial, high-tech, retail, entertainment and educational institutions and facilities. With the world headquarters of BorgWarner, Siemens VDO, Guardian Industries and Chrysler Corporation and Auburn Hills is home to numerous other North American headquarters such as Takata, Hirotec America and Faurecia. We are extremely proud of our international reputation as a great place to do business.

Through a cooperative effort between the residents and businesses, Auburn Hills has evolved into a City that offers the best of both worlds-an attractive business environment and outstanding quality of life. Our 20,000 residents enjoy all the benefits that a full service community has to offer.

With a daytime population of over 60,000, a multi-industry business environment and a convenient location, Auburn Hills is truly a first-rate City. We are a vibrant community and look forward to building upon the assets that make us unique and attractive for investment, economic development and growth.

Fast Facts

Incorporation: 1983

Land Area: 17.5 square miles

Location: Strategically located within 40% of the US population and 50% of the Canadian population, Auburn Hills' central location provides easy access to numerous metro-area freeways, major highway, airports and seaports.

Education: Home to Oakland University, Beaumont Medical School, Oakland Community College, Baker College, Thomas M. Cooley Law School and Central Michigan University Extension Campus

Environmental Leadership: The City of Auburn Hills has been very progressive in the development of initiatives that respect our environment. Such initiatives include; household hazardous waste collection day for residents, the adoption of a woodlands and wetlands ordinances, a green building policy, as well as, providing a tax abatement for new building seeking LEED certification, Clinton River Clean-Up, streambank stabilization, habitat enhancement, and implementing various low-impact development practices such as the installation of rain gardens, bio-swales, green roof, and restoring areas using native wildflowers and grasses.

Public Safety: Public safety is one of top priorities. We have the best trained Police and Fire Departments.

Entertainment/Shopping/Lodging: In addition to being home to the Palace of Auburn Hills, Great Lakes Crossing Mall and the Walter P. Chrysler Museum, Auburn Hills also enjoys a close proximity to Meadow Brook Hall, Theatre and Music Festival, DTE Energy Theatre, Cranbrook Institute of Science and other restaurants. Our extensive hotel industry accommodates both visitors and business travelers.

Parks & Recreation: Auburn Hills maintains 7 city owned parks, in addition to having 2.1 miles of the Clinton River Trail that connects to surrounding communities

Municipal Golf Course: Fieldstone Golf Club, a highly rated Arthur Hills designed course is one of the top rated municipal golf courses in the Midwest.

For further information, please contact Peter Auger, City Manager, at 248.370.9440 or by email at pauger@auburnhills.org