Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce

Preamble

Privacy and confidentiality of information, whether on the internet, telephone, mobile devices or in our offices is of paramount importance to us. Accordingly we publish this policy as we know our members and the public will be putting a great deal of faith in how we handle their private information.

This policy and our procedures are consistent with the Canadian Standards Association Model Code for the Protection of Personal Information and the applicable British Columbia provincial legislation.

British Columbia enacted legislation effective January 1, 2004 entitled the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA) concurrently with the Government of Canada's Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDIA). The federal act generally relates to federally regulated enterprises, while the provincial act governs business and not for profit organizations in BC.

This legislation regulates the collection, use, retention and disclosure of personally identifiable information.

To be personally identifiable it must be unique to an individual such as name, unique number or characteristic (photo, SIN number, employee number, student number, etc.).

However, certain publicly available information (e.g. names, addresses and phone numbers published in telephone directories) and business contact information are not considered personal information. That means that when an individual provides his/her home contact information as business contact information, the contact information is not subject to the legislation's protection.

Privacy Statement

This policy deals only with personal information obtained and retained by Cloverdale District of Commerce. Personal information is information about an identifiable individual, excluding contact information. The following explains how the Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce (Chamber) handles personal information. The Chamber reserves the right to change or update this policy periodically. These changes may affect our use of your personal information. Accordingly, please check for changes regularly.

Accountability

The Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce (Chamber) is accountable for all personal information under its custody and control. The Chamber's privacy officer is the Executive Assistant who is designated as responsible for the privacy policy. The privacy officer can be reached at:

Natasha Taylor, Executive Assistant
Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce
5748 176th Street Cloverdale BC V3S 4C8
Phone: (604) 574-9802

Any questions about the Chamber's handling of personal information should be directed to the privacy officer. The process for referring questions about the Chamber's handling of personal information is described below.

Purpose of Collecting Personal Information

The purpose for which the Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce collects personal information will be identified at or before the time the information is collected. The Chamber may collect, use, retain, and disclose personal information for the purposes of:

- administering the Chamber membership and providing member services;
- registering for Chamber events, for example the Annual General Meeting;
- purchasing various Chamber products or services including document certification;
- establish, maintain or terminate relationships with our employees and
- processing and administering the above or other purposes as necessary.

The Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce will not use personal information for any other purpose than those identified at or before the time of collection.

Consent

The Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce seeks consent for all personal information we collect, use and disclose through information provided to individuals prior to or at the time of collection.

If you have voluntarily provided information, you have consented to the collection, use and disclosure of your personally identifiable information as described in this privacy policy. As required by the CSA Model Code, the Chamber will not use personal information for any purpose other than that for which you consented. Should the Chamber require personal information for a new purpose, we will contact you to seek consent for that new use.

Limits for Collecting, Using, Disclosing and Keeping Personal Information

The Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce does not collect, use or disclose personal information of individuals except when individuals give consent and provide the information on a voluntary basis. There may be occasions where more specific personal information is necessary for us to proceed with a request for information, or provide you with a product or service. In such cases, we will provide you with a description on the information we need. In all cases, the Chamber limits the amount and type of information collected to only the personal information that is required to provide the individual with the requested information, product, or service. We collect only information that is voluntarily provided by you and undertake that such information will be kept strictly confidential.

We retain personal information only as long as is necessary to provide the individual with the requested product, service or information and delete or destroy this information after that time, i.e. if personal information is given to enable you to register for an event, the personal information will only be used for this event and will then be deleted or destroyed. In some cases, however, legal reporting and retention requirements necessitate that the Chamber retain information for a specific amount of time.

The Chamber does not sell or trade any personal information with third parties. The Chamber may transfer information to service providers where information processing is outsourced in the course of its administrative procedures or member services in specific cases. Where personal information is transferred to a service provider for processing, we require the service provider to respect this Privacy Policy and we restrict them from using or disclosing personal information transferred to them for any purpose other than the provision of services to us.

Any personal information that the Chamber retains is kept in such a manner as to ensure its security and confidentiality at all times.

Safeguarding Personal Information

The Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce respects the privacy of our members, partners, potential website visitors and internet users and will protect that privacy as reasonably as possible. We store personal information in electronic and physical files that are secure. Our security measures include: a building alarm system, secure locks on filing cabinets, and using industry standard techniques such as firewalls, encryption, intrusion detection and restricted access to records and to equipment, including computers. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result, while we strive to protect your personal information, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to us or receive from us electronically. This is especially true for information you transmit to us via e-mail. We have no way of protecting that information until it reaches us. Once we receive your transmission, we make our best efforts to ensure its security on our servers.

Accuracy of and Access to Personal Information Collected

The Cloverdale District Chamber of Commerce makes every effort to keep personal information as accurate, complete, current and relevant as necessary for the identified purposes. However the Chamber may not routinely update personal information.

The Chamber's Privacy Policy and related procedures for managing personal information is made readily available. We provide access to the Privacy Policy and related procedures to individuals on the Chamber's web site and in written form. Any questions about the handling of personal information by the Chamber may be directed to our privacy officer.

At the written request of an individual, he or she may view or edit their personal information as collected by the Chamber. The Chamber will inform them of what personal information we have about that individual, what it is being used for and, in cases where it has been disclosed, to whom it has been disclosed. There may be exceptional circumstances as provided by the CSA Model Code under which the Chamber may not be able to give an individual access to the personal information about he or her held by the Chamber. In this case the Chamber will explain the reason for this lack of access, as provided by the CSA Model Code.

To make a request, please send a letter, email or fax addressed to our Privacy Officer at the address indicated above. In your request, please include the following information:

Name, contact details, membership number (where applicable), the nature of your request, including whether you wish to view and/or edit information or inquire regarding use and/or disclosure.

The Chamber will reply to your request in no later than thirty days after receipt of the request, or if we are not able to respond within this time period, we will send you a notice of extension. If we are not able to disclose all the personal information we hold on you, we will give you a reason for our inability to do so, unless prohibited by law.
