*** Lab interfaces require that the lab can technically connect with McKesson and/or McKesson's lab connectivity partner. Unless your lab(s) can meet these technical requirements – they may not be able to connect with McKesson Practice Choice. The list of currently available lab suppliers can be found at the following link: www.mckessonpracticechoice.com/labinterfaces. If your lab is not on this list, we may still be able to build a connection. To investigate a specific lab connection, please have your lab supplier contact McKesson at PracticeChoiceResults@McKesson.com.

The connecting lab supplier or Customer must pay McKesson for each connection. Fees will vary based on complexity and volume. To investigate the costs for a specific connection, please have your lab supplier contact McKesson at PracticeChoiceResults@McKesson.com. Some labs may opt to cover the cost of your connection to McKesson. The decision is at the lab's discretion and low transaction volume practices may not qualify. Although you may choose to pay for a connection directly, alternative strategies like consolidating your lab volume, partnering with other practices, etc. may encourage your lab supplier(s) to cover the connectivity fees.
