August 19 Luncheon—Community R Factor Training

How do you navigate the events of life and work in a way that produces great results? There is a powerful equation which Hilliard Schools has been using from the partnership it has had with Tim Kight and his Focus 3 team: E + R = O

Event + Response = Outcome

Tim has worked with Urban Meyer and The Ohio State University Football Program over the past few years. His message—that a successful reaction isn’t impulsive but a skill that can be taught—has hit home with the Ohio State players who have harnessed a power of positive responses to every imaginable event. Using ideas he received from Kight, Meyer set a standard of Above the Line behavior to coaching.

You don’t control Events and you don’t control Outcomes—-you can only control how you Respond. That is The R Factor.

Hilliard Schools has been in partnership with Tim Kight for the last few years to bring Tim’s expertise to the administrators and teachers. Beginning this fall all students in the Hilliard Schools will begin to work on R Factor training, to give them the tools they need to navigate the events of school and home life. John Marschhausen, Superintendent of Hilliard Schools, will inform our members and guests at our monthly luncheon...
