Overview of NLP Coaching:

People have a higher potential than they are aware of. Most people do not live up even close to that potential. A Coach has the knowledge and skills to help facilitate people on their journey to fulfill that potential and achieve what they want.

Coaching Skills are requested in today's business and corporate world. Coaching skills are essential for everyone who works with people, one-on-one or in a group. Executives, directors and leaders go through NLP training to increase their effectiveness, Many people who are not satisfied with their career, job or daily work find their answers in Coaching Training. Coaching can be your new or additional career.

NLP Coaching also provides you with the skills to solve any problems, handle emotions and bring forth the changes desired in your life. NLP Coaching skills can be used to increase personal power, persuasion and sales. The same advanced communication skills can be used to enhance respect, empathy and so who we are as humans. This program empowers you to become who you truly are, beyond your expectations.

What is special about this NLP Coaching Training?

- The completion of this 3-Level program gives you the certification and skill level to work as a coach
- The coaching approaches include personal, business, professional, performance, leadership and life coaching
- The NLP Master Coach international certification comes from the Society of NLP, CA, USA, keeping the original conditions of NLP from the 1970s in USA offering the highest standards of NLP in the world.
- Dr. Doris is directly related to some of the founders and senior trainers of NLP since the 1980s. DorisNLP and Society NLP avoids psychometrics, psychological testing and any NON-NLP techniques and focuses on pure NLP techniques, as originally created in the 1970's in the USA.
- The special focus on language in this training empowers you with the widest variety of language patterns that change thinking and interaction with outstanding results. Go for nothing less but the best in language training.
- This NLP program addresses emotions in a way that no other NLP training does integrating Doris' 30 years of vast experience in working with people from the heart. It incorporates specific models from Emotional Intelligence and Improve Theater to most appropriately and effectively handle emotions and also use the power of emotions.
- The Time Matrix not only helps you to prioritize and manage time but more importantly gives you clear step-by-step templates to put your goals or any business plan successfully into action.

There will be never a boring moment in the training room. We include accelerated learning styles and believe in learning by doing. Learning is embedded in an atmosphere of trust, safety, inspiration, playfulness and fun.
