CHAMBER WELCOMES INCOMING CHAIR, JOE CHASE

The annual Chairman's Circle Reception took place at FPL's Manatee Lagoon in West Palm Beach. Don Kiselewski was honored for his year as Chair and we welcomed Joe Chase as the incoming Chair of the Board of Directors.

The event, sponsored by Gunster, featured live entertainment sponsored by Time Equities/Avison Young, signature cocktails sponsored by Glidden-Spina & Partners, Architecture-Interior Design, Inc. and delicious food catered by SandyJames Fine Food and Productions, Inc. This fundraising event featured a silent auction, and two lucky people took home round-trip tickets donated by Southwest Airlines. Thank you to all of our host committee sponsors along with FPL, NOVA Southeastern University, Good Samaritan Medical Center and Related Companies. We look forward to a fruitful year under the direction of our new Chair, Joe Chase.

Palm Beach County Mayor Mary Lou Berger delivered the State of the County address at the Palm Beach County Convention Center. The Mayor's presentation included a video produced by Discover the Palm Beaches entitled "The Perfect Place," showcasing the highlights of Palm Beach County.

During the presentation, the Chamber partnered with the West Palm Beach Police Foundation, collecting more than $1,800 in donations for the "Shop With A Cop" program, benefiting underprivileged children in West Palm Beach.

Additionally, retiring Board members were recognized and awarded for their hard work and dedication to the Chamber. Ticket vouchers to the 2016 Boca Raton Bowl were given to all attendees. The breakfast was sponsored by The Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts. Other supporting sponsors were The Mosaic Group and Ford & Harrison LLP.

Inaugural Bill Bone Sandi 5K benefits 'Shop with a Cop'

Runners and walkers took their marks on the starting line for the inaugural Bill Bone Sandi 5K on Friday, Dec. 2. The evening race started under the festive lights of the Sandi Tree sculpture at the center of Waterfront Park. The Kids 100 Yard Reindeer Dash followed and the Achilles wheelchair athletes decorated their rides with holiday lights.

Philip Stickney was the overall male winner of the 5K with a time of 18:29, and Jen Nicholson was the overall female winner with a time of 20:17.

Bill Bone of Larmoyeux & Bone was the title sponsor of the 5K, and the City of West Palm Beach and the Chamber of Commerce of the Palm Beaches partnered to produce the evening's festivities.

The race benefited the West Palm Beach Police Foundation's 'Shop with a Cop' program, which provides funds for children to shop with volunteer police officers during the December holidays to purchase gifts for their families.

Marathon returns to West Palm Beach in December 2017

After a one-year re-organizational hiatus, the Chamber of the Palm Beaches confirmed the future of the Marathon of the Palm Beaches. Newly named, the PALM BEACHES MARATHON will return to the streets of West Palm Beach and the shores of the beautiful Intracoastal Waterway on Dec. 3, 2017 with a new, local ownership group bringing new vision, creativity, marketing savvy, and new energy to this long-standing tradition as Palm Beach County's premier running experience.

K2 Sports Ventures, LLC, a local firm established by Kenneth R. Kennerly, best known as the Executive Director of The Honda Classic who transitioned Palm Beach County's largest sporting event into one of the elite events on the PGA TOUR, acquired the race from the Chamber. In addition to reviving the formidable 26.2-mile race, Kennerly has confirmed to include a minimum a half-marathon and 5K race, with other races to be identified shortly.

Known for its stunning waterfront views and scenic course, the event will attract runners from all over the country and will drive a meaningful and growing economic impact for Palm Beach County. "I have always admired The

Palm Beaches Marathon and visualized it through the years as an event that could grow to become a prominent fixture in this community, much in the way that The Honda Classic has evolved," Kennerly said. "We have assembled a great team with enormous energy, local knowledge, and vision to take this race to new heights and make Palm Beach County an international running destination each December."

Kennerly has teamed up with his old friend and race production veteran John Mathews, owner of the Sunshine State Races and RSE Marketing, to assist in all operational aspects of the event. "Runners are going to love the Palm Beaches Marathon race routes," Mathews said. "They will be flat, fast and beautiful with water views almost the entire way. We can't wait to instill some new elements to the event and the overall race experience."

In addition, Iva Grady, the founder of the Palm Beaches Marathon who presided over the event for its first nine years – from 2004-2012 – will return as a Race Consultant to Palm Beaches Marathon, LLC and will work closely with Kennerly and Mathews. Grady has been a runner for more than 46 years, and as she was running in the New York Marathon in 2003, the idea crossed her mind of how wonderful it would be if Palm Beach County had a marathon where the weather was nicer and the views so much prettier. The Chamber of Commerce of the Palm Beaches then hired her in 2004 to start the race.

"As the founder of the Marathon of the Palm Beaches and being an active runner, I am extremely happy that Ken Kennerly and his company, K2 Sports Ventures, will be the new owners of the Palm Beaches Marathon," she said. "His leadership, experience, and local corporate relationships will benefit runners throughout Florida."

New mini golf course tees up major conservation effort

Ribbon-cutting event opens science center's newest attraction

South Florida Science Center and Aquarium leadership, board members, hole sponsors, project developers and community VIPs were on hand for an inaugural round of play at the Science Center's Conservation Course, a new miniature golf course now open to guests.

Gary Nicklaus and Jim Fazio, sons of two local icons in the golf community, collaborated on the custom-designed course – a first for the typical competitors. Fazio was in attendance to officially open the course, leading attendees in a ceremonial opening round. Jim Walton of Southwest Greens was responsible for course construction.

According to SFSCA CEO Lew Crampton, the course was developed as a green space to provide recreational and environmental benefits to visitors while educating people about Florida's native habitats. Each hole is named for a plant or animal found in the Everglades and has a sign with educational information. The course was designed with science in mind, with a goal toward fostering interest in golf and conservation initiatives. "It's a golf course laid out in a huge butterfly garden," Crampton said.

Post-election analysis

On Dec. 14 at the Palm Beach County Convention Center at 7:45 a.m., join our South Florida newspaper executives as they discuss their coverage of the recent presidential election, the importance of a free press and the First Amendment in a democracy, as well as how they combat perceptions of media bias propagated during the recent campaign.
