MEET THE CORE COORDINATOR - MARY SCHROEDER

Hello CORE members!! My name is Mary Schroeder. I am the CORE Coordinator at the Maple Grove location.

I am the youngest of 9 children- born and raised in Northeast Minneapolis. I grew up spending lots of time around my older sibling's athletic events, which sparked my interest in health, fitness, and athletics. I attended Concordia University-St. Paul, where I received my Bachelor's Degree in Exercise Science, Sports Management, and Community Health and received an athletic scholarship to play basketball for the Golden Bears. PNBC's philosophy of hard work and exercise as a driving force to an active and healthy lifestyle attracted me to work here.

Away from work, I love spending time with my family and friends, being outdoors and fishing (yes, even ice fishing) at my cabin on Mille Lacs Lake. I am engaged to be married October 25, 2014- so the next year should be an exciting one!

Happy Health!

PRESEASON STRENGTH TRAINING FOR WINTER SPORTS - START NOW!

A strong body, adequate amount of sleep, and good equipment are key areas to focus on when achieving a successful and injury free season.

Get your preseason exercises started now through the CORE spinal fitness program. Listed below are a few areas to get you started with your preseason workout to ensure a strong body for your winter activity:

Abductor strengthening-Leg lifted away from body
(see exercise of the month)

Quad/Glutes/Hamstring Strengthening-
Wall squats or leg press

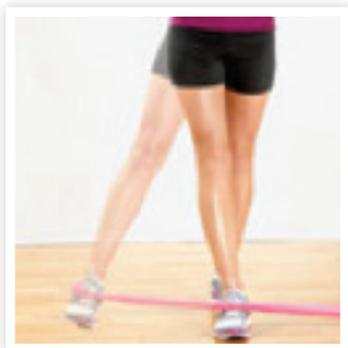

Core strength-Participate in Janessa's pilates class

Balance-Single leg stance while mimicking sports specific stance

Cardiovascular endurance-Try interval training

When training for a specific activity make your exercises specific to those movements you'll be using during your sport.
For example, if you're training for downhill skiing, incorporate lunges and single leg lifts. If you are snowshoeing, try interval work on stairs along with core and balance training.

For more information specific to lower extremity strength training and your specific activity, please see our CORE coordinators.

EXERCISE OF THE QUARTER: SINGLE LEG HIP ABDUCTION

REFRESH AND REVIEW

Have you had a flare up or unsure of your progress? Sign up for refresh and review with Mary, Gina or Janessa before you speak to your doctor. We can help. Or, are you going on vacation this winter? Refresh your memory on your form with the roman chair or head weights.

MEMBER APPRECIATION

Look for our member appreciation event the second week of December. Healthy snacks, door prizes and a yumPower presentation will be coming to each CORE spinal fitness center.
Thank you for your consistent membership at the CORE.
