

Linbro, Inc.

Since 1978, Linbro has been offering their customers a delicious experience in the world of import / export of food products and ingredients. Long-standing relationships with well-established suppliers enable this San Rafael based company to deliver the highest quality international food products from East Asia, Southeast Asia, Latin America, Europe, and other countries.

Linbro is a well respected family business that delivers the highest quality of food products in various formats from throughout the world. Their product and presentation formats includes vegetables, fruit, nuts and seeds, grains, flour and starch, noodles and seafood items that are canned, dehydrated, in retort pouch, frozen, organic, or fruit puree and concentrate.

For years, overseas suppliers have entrusted Linbro to act as their marketing and sales channel. As manufacturer representatives, they create and implement innovative marketing plans with the high standard of integrity that is expected of them. Their team makes frequent overseas trips where they visit our suppliers and carefully inspect their plants to ensure that the U.S. Food & Drug, USDA and other food safety programs are implemented. For more information, please visit info@linbro.com