

Opportunity to Promote Your Family Business

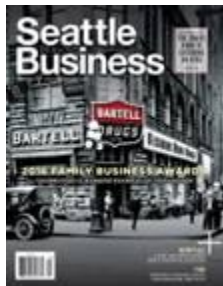

In an email received from Northwest Family Business Advisors, they brought to our attention a relevant, useful opportunity to enhance your business and network. The Seattle Business magazine is “on the hunt” for family businesses in Washington state who set the standard for excellence and success. The nomination deadline is approaching.

You can apply by filling out the online form at this link by the nomination deadline: Friday, August 11, 2017.

Family-owned and family-operated businesses are unique, and Seattle Business magazine is looking to recognize and celebrate their outstanding achievements.

Quality, consistency and flexibility are terms often featured in descriptions of the honorees in Seattle Business magazine's Family Business Awards program.

Most of these companies have at least three generations of family ownership, while some carry a legacy stretching back five generations or more.

A common thread among them: growing their business while serving their communities and paying close attention to the personal touch in customer service.

Nominations will be judged by a team of experts and leaders.

Gold and Silver winners will be honored at an awards gala in December 2017, and Finalists will be the subject of a FEATURE story in the December 2017 Family Business Awards issue of Seattle Business magazine.
